

Is an Annuity Right for You?

Managing taxes, outpacing inflation and securing stable income are all key considerations as you plan for financial security in retirement. A fixed annuity may help address these challenges, potentially allowing you to enjoy greater financial freedom in the years ahead. Consider the following key benefits:

Fixed Interest Rate	A fixed annuity credits a guaranteed interest rate for an initial guarantee period. After the initial guarantee period, a new guaranteed rate is reset annually. A minimum interest rate is guaranteed for the life of the contract.
Access to Money	Some annuities allow withdrawals at least once annually (usually for up to 10% of the contract value) without a charge. Some also allow free withdrawals for special needs, such as confinement to a nursing home.
Death Benefit Protection	If the owner dies before retirement income begins, a named beneficiary receives the annuity's entire account or contract value. Provided the annuity is properly structured, your beneficiary can bypass the delays, expense and publicity of probate.
Tax Deferral	Annuity earnings grow tax deferred until withdrawn, reducing your current taxes and allowing your money to grow faster than in a currently taxed alternative paying the same rate. This may be an added benefit if you are in a lower tax bracket when retirement income payouts begin.
Retirement Boost	Are you already taking full advantage of employer plans and IRAs? An annuity's combination of unrestricted contributions and tax deferral could be a retirement boost. In addition, nonqualified annuities don't require distributions at age 70½, allowing your money to continue compounding.
Guaranteed Income	Only an annuity issued by an insurer offers retirement income guaranteed to continue for as long as you live when you annuitize the contract. Other payout options may be available. An income option selection is permanent.

While every contract is different, an annuity offers several benefits over other retirement vehicles that may be attractive to you.

Payment of benefits under the annuity contract is the obligation of, and is guaranteed by, the insurance company issuing the annuity. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the insurer.
