- › Maximum premium varies by issue age

² Company ratings, current as of 3/23/23, subject to change. Current ratings at www.wsfinancialpartners.com/ratings.

³ Partial surrenders and unpaid loans will reduce the death benefit, and may have tax consequences. If applicable, the surrender charge is 1% (0.5% in NY) of the premium or partial surrender amount for the first five policy years and 0% thereafter.

⁴ Accelerated Death Benefit Rider not available for issue ages 81-85. Payment of Accelerated Death Benefits, if not repaid, will reduce the Death Benefit and affect the available loan amount and other policy values. Terminal illness means diagnosis of less than 12-month life expectancy. Chronic illness benefit available for issue ages 55-80. Chronic illness means the insured has been unable to perform without substantial assistance, at least two of the six Activities of Daily Living (bathing, dressing, toileting, continence, transferring and eating) for a period of at least 90 consecutive days due to a loss of functional capacity, or requires substantial supervision to protect themselves from threats to health and safety due to severe cognitive impairment. If elected, interest will accrue on the advance, and advances and interest will deduct from the Death Benefit. An administrative charge may be assessed to process a claim.

 - Activate the Accelerated Death Benefit³ that allows a partial benefit for Terminal Illness or Chronic Illness (terms and conditions apply)⁴

¹ Assumes underwriting approval and quote as of 2/13/23.

² Partial surrenders and policy loans reduce the death benefit, and may have tax consequences.

³ Payment of Accelerated Death Benefits, if not repaid, will reduce the Death Benefit and affect the available loan amount and other policy values.

⁴ No charge for benefit prior to when it is exercised; we reserve the right to assess a $75 administrative charge when exercised. See back page for benefit details.

How Susan Did It

Susan simply made a single premium payment, then left the policy untouched. Her legacy instantly increased in the form of a death benefit her sons will receive generally free of federal income tax.

*Susan maximized her assets with a single premium.
Consider how this strategy may work for you.*

How the Accelerated Death Benefit Works

A chronic illness is defined as the inability to perform two or more of the six recognized Activities of Daily Living (ADLs), or that you require substantial supervision due to severe cognitive impairment. The six ADLs include: bathing, continence, dressing, eating, transferring, and toileting.

The chronic illness maximum benefit is 100% of your premium paid minus any partial withdrawals you may take.

A terminal illness is defined as a diagnosis of life expectancy of 12 months or less. At diagnosis of terminal illness, many people need to pay for medical care or pay final expenses, such as burial and funeral costs.

The terminal illness maximum benefit may be from 60% to 90% of your death benefit, based on your age, gender and tobacco status. This amount is based on factors determined at the time the withdrawal request is made.

With Legacy Forward II, if you use the chronic illness benefit and later are diagnosed with a terminal illness, you may have access to a portion of your policy's remaining death benefit. These withdrawals are treated as a lien on the death benefit. Interest is calculated and deducted from the amount you request. The death benefit, cash value and available policy loan will be reduced by the amount of the outstanding lien, including interest. There may be no remaining death benefit when you pass away.

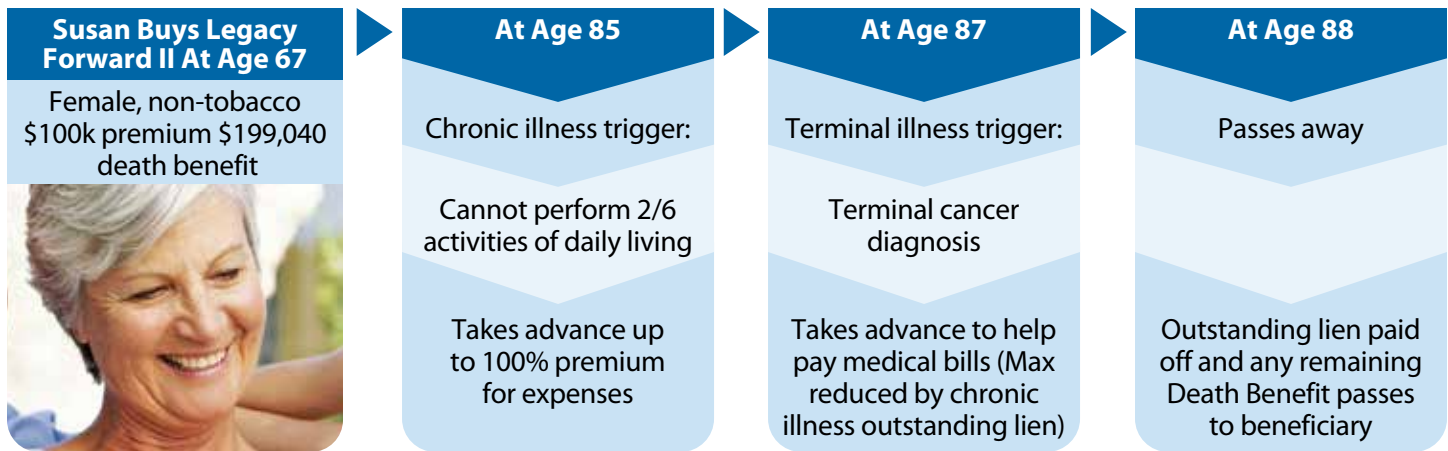

Reality? Nearly 7 in 10

However, the lifetime probability of becoming disabled in at least two activities of daily living or of being cognitively impaired for those aged 65 and older is nearly 70%, or 7 in 10²

Susan Uses Her Benefits

Hopefully you will never need to use the chronic illness or terminal illness benefits. Still, you may feel better knowing they are there in the event you ever must. If you don't need to access them, and take no other withdrawals from your policy, your named beneficiary will receive the entire initial death benefit amount as planned, guaranteed.

The policy may be issued as a Modified Endowment Contract (MEC) for tax purposes. Any withdrawals or surrenders could result in a taxable event. Distributions are taxable to the extent that there is gain in the contract. A 10% penalty applies for distributions prior to age 59½ with certain exceptions. In order for policies funded by an exchange to be issued as a non-MEC, the entire single premium must be in the form of a 1035 Exchange and the existing policy must not be a MEC. You should consult an attorney or tax advisor for more complete information.

Living benefits are accessed through an advance of the policy's death benefit, provided the insured meets eligibility requirements under the applicable rider. An advance is treated as a lien secured by the Death Benefit of the policy and will reduce the Death Benefit payable if not repaid. The advance will accrue interest each year. The rate of interest will depend on the cash value of your policy and may vary. The lien may be increased in necessary to keep your policy in effect. This rider is added at no additional premium; however, we may charge a fee of up to $250.00 for an advance payment. The accelerated death benefit will terminate with the policy.

Life insurance proceeds paid in the form of an accelerated death benefit when the insured has become chronically or terminally ill, and is otherwise eligible for benefits, are intended to receive favorable tax treatment under Section 101(g) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. Sec. 101(g)). In NY, the maximum payout amount allowed in a calendar year is equal to the per diem limitation amount. There may be tax consequences in some situations in accepting an accelerated benefit payment amount, such as where total payments exceed the per diem limitation under the Internal Revenue Code. Consult your tax advisor before taking an advance. Receipt of Accelerated Benefit payments may adversely affect the recipient's eligibility for Medicaid or other government benefits or entitlements. They may also be considered taxable by the Internal Revenue Service.

An accelerated death benefit is not to be sold as or to replace long-term care insurance, nursing home insurance, or home care insurance. An accelerated death benefit (such as the Accelerated Death Benefit Plus Rider) and long-term care insurance provide very different kinds of benefits.
