STRATEGY ACTIVITY

During the quarter, there was one new addition to the portfolio and one complete sale. Cash holdings ended the quarter at 1.4%.

As the quarter came to a close, the portfolio had an overweight in the Communication Services, Consumer Discretionary, Financials, and Real Estate sectors and an underweight in the Consumer Staples, Industrials, Health Care, Information Technology, and Energy sectors. The portfolio held no positions in the Utilities or Materials sectors.

From a market cap perspective, the portfolio maintained an underweight in smaller cap stocks (companies with a market cap below $2 billion). The index weight for this segment is 3.7%, compared to 0.0% for the portfolio. The portfolio remained underweight in mid-cap businesses which now comprise 7.5% of assets, compared to an index weight of 12.2%. Lastly, the portfolio continues to maintain an overweight in larger cap businesses (companies with a market cap above $10 billion). The weight in that segment is currently 91.1%, which is higher than the index weight of 84.1%. This allocation decision was a slight positive to performance during the quarter.

The sectors where fund holdings outperformed relative to the benchmark were Consumer Staples and Health Care. Sectors that lagged relative to the benchmark include Real Estate, Energy, Industrials, Financials, Consumer Discretionary, and Communication Services. Holdings in the Information Technology sector performed in line with the index sector. Stock selection was negative for the period. Sector allocation was a positive contributor primarily due to the overweight to Financials and the underweight to Health Care. The impact of the cash position was negative given the upward move in the index for the quarter.

The three stocks that contributed the most to performance were an online social media business, a multinational technology company, and a diversified multinational media and entertainment conglomerate. Stocks detracting from performance included a Chinese multinational technology company, an American commercial real estate company, and a leading internet search business.

Investments made in international companies, which comprised 7.8% of assets, underperformed the benchmark.

OUTLOOK

The Focused Equity team continues to view the U.S. equity market as healthy, albeit later in the cycle. Our view is that the strong first half performance by U.S. equities has been driven by broad participation across the market cap spectrum. The typical signs we monitor as indicators of near-term recession risk—credit, asset bubbles, and inflation—do not signal a reason to get defensive heading into the second half. Our opinion is the equity market is trading close to fair value, and we expect returns to anchor around the cost of capital going forward. We respect the view, however, that investor enthusiasm could pull forward future returns.

At the end of the second quarter, the Focused Equity portfolio continued to be positioned for the later stage of the market cycle.

This is evident in our emphasis on larger cap businesses and stocks that are priced in the Franchise Value layer. The portfolio also has a large percentage of businesses with high returns on capital and higher barriers to entry protecting excess returns. Additionally, the team continues to prioritize high quality companies as we look for businesses that are mispriced by the market. The weighted average excess return on capital of the portfolio remains at an all-time high and considerably above the market average. We believe all of these positioning elements are prudent considering the impressive first half run, which has reduced the margin of safety for the U.S. equity market.

Composite inception and creation date: 10/01/07. ¹The 3-Year annualized ex-post standard deviation is calculated using monthly returns to measure the average deviations of returns from its mean. ²Dispersion is not calculated for years in which the composite contains five portfolios or less. Dispersion is calculated as the equal weighted standard deviation of returns for those portfolios held in the composite during the entire period. The benchmark for this composite is the Russell 3000 Index. Past performance is not indicative of future results. The Fort Washington Focused Equity strategy is an all-cap concentrated, value oriented strategy that invests in businesses with strong barriers to entry that have the capability of generating excess returns on capital. The strategy looks to take advantage of irrational human behavior by buying securities that have been mispriced by the market. We will invest in companies that have limited absolute downside and large margin of safety on the upside. The objective of the Focused Equity strategy is to outperform the Russell 3000 Index over a full market cycle. All fee-paying, fully discretionary portfolios managed in the Focused Equity style, with a minimum of $1 million under our management, are included in this composite. Effective 01/22/14, the Focused Equity strategy fee schedule is as follows: 0.75% on the first $25 million, 0.70% on the next $25 million, and 0.65% on the next $50 million and over. The benchmark for this composite is the Russell 3000 Index.
