

Anthony Cassino is a Partner at SA-720™ Strategies, a consulting firm providing seminars on cross-functional teamwork and strategic planning based on principles derived from the U.S. Special Operations community and successfully employed in the corporate world.

Anthony is the President & CEO of Procinctu Group, a global risk management firm founded in 2005 that provides specialized security services and training to U.S. and foreign government entities, multinational corporations, and select individuals.

Anthony is a 1997 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland, where he received a Bachelor of Science in Political Science and was a four-year member of the Navy pistol team, competing against other Branches of Service and the top shooting teams in the nation. He completed seven years of active duty service as a Surface Warfare Officer.

Anthony's operational deployments include serving as the Lieutenant in charge of an 8-man non-compliant boarding assault team in support of Operation Enduring Freedom in the Arabian Sea. Achievements include recognition for leading the team that conducted the first Maritime Leadership Interdiction Operation of the Global War on Terror.

In 2007, Anthony received his Juris Doctor cum laude from Roger Williams University School of Law in Bristol, Rhode Island, where he was elected by his peers to serve as Chairman of the Ethics & Conduct Board. He has served as an Assistant District Attorney in Bristol County, Massachusetts, and is admitted to the Rhode Island and Massachusetts state bars.

In 2008, Anthony joined Procinctu Group as General Counsel and Director of Executive Protection Services. He manages corporate compliance for all facets of the business, including directing the company's International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITARs) program with the U.S. Department of State. Practice areas include contract administration with both commercial & governmental clients, labor & employment law compliance, and intellectual property protection.

In 2015, Anthony was named President & CEO of Procinctu Group. He possesses over a decade of personal experience managing multi-year, multi-million dollar security services contracts. He has served as an Agent-In-Charge and Team Member of several hundred Executive Protection Details on five different continents, working with A-list celebrities, C-Suites from Fortune 500 companies, and ultra-high net worth individuals and families.

Anthony is an ASIS International-certified Physical Security Professional™ and a Department of Defense-certified Master Training Specialist. He is a fanatical golfer, an avid distance runner, and a die-hard Yankees fan. Anthony lives in Charlotte, North Carolina with his wife Sharon and son Charlie.

